

Godbeat.com November 2009

Blink Of An Eye - Action - Relationships & Internal Destiny Make Up this End Of Times Movie.

A line that stuck out to us as we were watching this “end of times” thriller was: “Welcome to Paradise”. Shot in a beautiful Yacht off the coast of Mexico, the backdrop could have not been more beautiful.

Unlike other rapture movies, this movie does not take place in a city or town torn apart by the events of that faithful day. This is a very unique and realistic scenario of what may happen to many of us on the day Christ returns. Stranded in a worldly paradise, many will miss the eternal paradise being prepared for us when that day arrives. This film is an example of that possibility

This movie, produced by Pureflix mission, is to “uplift and inspire the human spirit and evangelize” says David A.R. White. David, a partner and one of the main actors , along with his wife Andrea Logan White have acted in several films produced by Pureflix.

Set around the marriage relationship between David and Andrea’s characters, this movie explores not only a reconciliation between man and God, but husband and wife. The hope was to work on their relationship while on their weekend getaway in Mexico. Their marriage, nearly failing was only one aspect of their lives that needed healing.

Little did they know that they would also come face to face with their eternal relationship with God as well.

The action is gripping and the story line is fresh, telling an age old story in a way we have never watched it told before. It shows the amazing grace of God, who keeps giving us chances again and again to seek Him. The performances by Andrea Logan White and David A.R. White are gripping and real. This husband and wife team clearly has the chemistry to make this multi-story-lined movie very authentic and compelling.

Blink of an Eye is DVD everyone must own and share with your friends!

It’s a perfect movie for the family during the holidays and beyond!